

Coles leads UCLA fems

WHITTIER, Calif. — Led by former Arizona State University player Janet Coles, UCLA won the California Collegiate women's golf championship Tuesday at California Country Club.

UCLA and San Diego State tied with 314 totals, with the former winning out on a matching of scorecards. Arizona State's No. 1 team finished third at 326, ASU's No. 2 team tied U. of British Columbia at 330 and defending champion Arizona was next at 331 in the 15-school tournament.

Miss Coles' 150 topped the individual competition, while ASU's best finishers were Sue Peterson, 162; Wendy Hodgson, 163; Carol Reep, 164, and Betsy McWillie whose 167 was second best in first flight play.
